Saab Danmark A/S

Saab Danmark A/S is a part of the Saab group – one of the world's leading high technological companies within defence, space and civil security. Saab develops, produces and delivers advanced products and services for the defence industry as well as for the commercial market, having a wide list of competencies and skills within the field of system integration.

TactiCall Integrated Communication Solutions

TactiCall is designed to handle tactical secure military communication on naval vessels, mobile (deployable) defence systems and defence communication centres. TactiCall integrates all naval communication system elements, internal as well as external, supporting the concept of multi-mission, multi-role and multi-mode combat management systems.

Multi Function Console - MFC 2000

The MFC 2000 is a COTS based, fully flexible and ergonomically correct Multi Function Console available in configurations ranging from single to triple screen versions with either horizontal or vertical setups. The consoles are not dedicated to specific tasks, but can be configured to meet the requirements of the customer.

SMART MCM

The SMART Mine Warfare offer is built around software for planning, execution and evaluation of remote controlled. Mine Hunting and Mine Sweeping operations. Products include command and support systems, software for remote controlled drone ships, software to create Tactical Overviews, planning and evaluation tools for sweeping and hunting missions, as well as Mine Warfare Data Centres based on state of the art GIS software, utilizing modern concepts such as Rapid Environmental Assessment and Additional Military Layers.

Service and Support

Saab has over 100 years of experience in delivering customer tailored Service and Support solutions to armed forces all over the world. With a modular, flexible and entirely scalable approach to service, support, education and training, Saab is able to meet the specific requirements of customers for own products and 3rd party products alike – Both in and out of theatre.
